Berkeley Cox

Chief Executive Partner Australia - King & Wood Mallesons

Prior to his appointment as Chief Executive Partner, Berkeley was Managing Partner for the firm's Banking & Finance and Projects & Real Estate teams, and the leader of the Financial Services industry sector. Under his leadership, they have been recognised in numerous awards including 'Best Provider to the Financial Services Sector' and 'Best Provider to the Power and Utilities Sector' at the AFR Client Choice Awards, and 'Innovation in Finance' at the FT Asia Innovative Lawyers Awards.

Berkeley became a partner of legacy Mallesons Stephen Jaques in 2001 and managed a successful legal practice covering debt capital markets, funds management, structured finance, securitisation and derivatives. His background in transactional practice has provided him with critical insights into clients' needs, expectations and commercial drivers.

Pascal Lamy

Former Director General, World Trade Organisation; President Emeritus, Jacques Delors Institute

Widely respected as one of the world's leading thinkers, Pascal Lamy continues to enjoy a high-profile career, following his leadership of the WTO for 8 years, until 2013 and, earlier, as European Union Trade Commissioner.

Among other interests, he presently chairs the Paris bid for Expo 2025, represents France in the Pacific Economic Cooperation Council and is a member of Chatham House's group on EU-China partnership. He has also been a mentor to the recently elected President of France, Emmanuel Macron.

Pascal Lamy is a recipient of the Global Achievement Award of the Global Foundation and a leading contributor to the Foundation's annual Rome Roundtable and related activities over many years.
