

'STATE OF THE WORLD' ROUNDTABLE PART TWO: GLOBAL GOVERNANCE, CLIMATE AND NATURE

THURSDAY 29 FEBRUARY 7:30AM - 9:00AM AEDT VIA ZOOM

with Deputy Secretary-General of the United Nations,
Ms Amina J. Mohammed

To assist and encourage active participation in the 'State of the World' Roundtable Part 2: Global Governance, Climate and Nature, please read through the following.

Session Overview

In February over each of the past 4 years, the Global Foundation has convened a 'State of the World' Roundtable to better inform and engage its supporters, bringing together significant global figures to discuss some of the most substantial issues facing the world and collaborate on shaping pathways to more sustainable outcomes.

The Foundation specialises in drawing upon the talent, influence, and goodwill from all sections of global society. The roundtable will build awareness and alignment of various programs, projects, and initiatives of those taking part and will help to identify and elevate common threads of action that the Foundation itself and its allies might undertake.

At the forefront of issues in 2024 is the matter of global governance, particularly as it pertains to climate and nature. It is readily apparent that the international systems of cooperation that were put in place decades ago are now at risk, or as some would say, are broken.

While figures of goodwill lament the decline of trust and rise of tensions between civilisations, humanity faces an environmental crisis. A crisis that does not respect the borders of nation states, that is truly existential in stakes and in scale; a crisis that calls for international transformation and cooperation between those who might otherwise have little in common.

Part Two of the 'State of the World' roundtable will serve in part as the launch of the Global Foundation's agenda on 'Shaping agreement on global governance, climate and nature,' through collaboration with diverse global stakeholders.

The challenge is to foster meaningful reform to the systems of global governance, for a truly sustainable environment for humanity and planet. Through concerted action and mobilisation across society, the intention of the Global Foundation is to make international cooperation more possible and fit for purpose in the modern era. Transformative thinking and investments to ensure long-term outcomes, at scale, will be at the heart of this.

The participation of Ms Amina J. Mohammed, Deputy Secretary-General of the United Nations, alongside other distinguished speakers, will help to illuminate where attention ought to be focussed over the year ahead.

The 'State of the World' Roundtable will emphasise long-term, high-level ideas and solutions. How can global financial architecture be reformed to support a sustainable planet? How can infrastructure projects incorporate sustainability? What mechanisms are needed to protect our forests and oceans? How can we ensure a fair and just energy transition? What is the role of business with purpose?

Speaker Bios

Ms Amina J. Mohammed

Deputy Secretary-General, United Nations

Ms. Amina J. Mohammed is the Deputy Secretary-General of the United Nations and Chair of the United Nations Sustainable Development Group.

Prior to her appointment, Ms. Mohammed served as Minister of Environment of the Federal Republic of Nigeria where she steered the country's efforts on climate action and efforts to protect the natural environment.

Ms. Mohammed first joined the United Nations in 2012 as Special Adviser to former Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon with the responsibility for post-2015 development planning. She led the process that resulted in global agreement around the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the creation of the Sustainable Development Goals.

Ms. Mohammed began her career working on the design of schools and clinics in Nigeria. She served as an advocate focused on increasing access to education and other social services, before moving into the public sector, where she rose to the position of adviser to four successive Presidents on poverty, public sector reform, and sustainable development.

Ms. Mohammed has been conferred several honorary doctorates and has served as an adjunct professor, lecturing on international development. The recipient of various global awards, Ms. Mohammed has served on numerous international advisory boards and panels. She is the mother of six children and has two grandchildren.

Ms Sharan Burrow AC

He has received awards from Brummell, the International Chamber of Commerce, the City of London, the United Nations Foundation, Yale and Harvard.

Principles and Ways of Working

Global Foundation Methodology: We aim to structure these to achieve a balance between input from speakers and contributions from participants. The program is designed to maximise the enormous breadth of experience and knowledge of the participants and facilitate, through expert moderation, the broad exchange of ideas.

Punctuality: It is essential that the meeting starts on time and that the above schedule is followed to the fullest extent possible.

Speakers & contributors: When the relevant section of the program commences, The moderator will introduce you and invite you to make opening remarks for some of your allotted time. The balance of your allotted time will be dedicated to a Q&A session, comprising questions from the moderator as well as other speakers and participants.

Other speakers will precede and follow you. We intend to have one final session of at least 20 minutes, during which you will have the opportunity to make further brief remarks based upon what you have heard from others throughout the session, or to answer a further question.

Chatham House rule: All Global Foundation sessions are held under Chatham House rule. Participants are free to use the information received, but neither the identity nor the affiliation of the speaker(s), nor that of any other participant, may be revealed.

Social media: We encourage participants to post about the roundtable on social media, in respect of the Chatham House Rule. Tag the Global Foundation on LinkedIn by typing @theglobalfoundationaus.
